

MALE AND FEMALE ENERGY - 2 part

You always need to start with yourself.

Everything you learn and understand in relation to yourself, you can then pass it on to the other human beings who live on Mother Earth.

Thus gradually, you begin to look and perceive yourself through compassionate and unconditional Love, likewise you also begin to perceive other human beings, trees, plants, stones, beings of nature, land, water, and Mother Earth itself.

To help you to understand how it is all interconnected, I will tell you that the key to be able to understand and accept the knowledge, is COMPASSIONATE LOVE.

If you have compassion in your heart, you can forgive, you can use your Inner Sight, you can feel the situation with your heart. You will know that everything is connected to everything, you will see the essence of what is actually happening, you see through the illusions of fear that holds you, and all this knowledge will become part of you again thanks to the Compassionate Love.

So you will perceive the energy of Love transmitted by beings living on Mother Earth. You will feel the Love, the Love Energy of trees, flowers, stones, soil, Mother Earth and again you will perceive beings of nature, elves, fairy, goblins, beings of air, water, mountains, fire and you will perceive Mother Earth as a living being overflowing with unconditional and compassionate Love all beings who live on it.

All of this will come back to you because everything is interconnected and tied very closely and deeply together. Just as you have lost everything by accepting fear and power, thus EVERYTHING WILL BE RETURNED AGAIN IF YOU ACCEPT COMPASSION AND FORGIVENESS.

The inner fire that carries female energy is very closely linked to the Trust and the protective role of male energy.

If this Trust has been destroyed, betrayed, or even lost, it is very difficult to light up the inner fire of female energy so that it can be given to male energy.

If these injuries, betrayals, and disappointments are not healed and cured by unconditional forgiveness, the woman will not be able to light up her inner fire. She cannot do it because there is fear. Fear will not allow to sprout the confidence and belief in male energy that it will truly fulfil his primary task of protecting the inner fire carried by female energy.

Notice, how very deeply it is all interconnected and intertwined.

If a woman does not heal all her injuries through unconditional forgiveness, the Compassionate Love cannot bloom in her heart, and thus she cannot forgive all injuries caused by male energy.

She cannot even light up her inner fire.

She cannot do this because fear will not allow her to begin to unconditionally trust and believe again, that male energy will protect her.

If there is no inner fire, a woman cannot heat and nourish male energy from within.

And when this male energy is not nourished and heated from within with the warmth of female energy, it does not have the strength to protect this female energy.

Do you perceive how it is intertwined and do you perceive that again there is a circle?

The only way you can come out of that vicious circle is FORGIVENESS, UNCONDITIONAL FORGIVENESS.

It is a very deep, limitless forgiveness in the hearts of women through which their hearts are filled with Compassionate Love. It is thanks to this compassionate Love that the Light of Faith can shine again and can make the right conditions so TRUST can germinate and grow again. Thanks to this Trust, women can heat and give warmth and nourish male hearts, so that male energy can cover and protect the female energy from inside.

Think of it as a circle in a circle. The inner circle is feminine energy, which gives warmth and heats the outer circle, which represents male energy.

And the outer circle protects the inner circle.

If there are injuries, any injuries and feelings of unforgiveness, humiliation, wrongs, and failures, then the woman cannot light up the inner fire in her female energy, only the cold, which creates ice in the male heart, goes to the outer circle.

Indifference, cruelty and heartlessness are born in that ice. Then the outer ring does not protect the inner ring.

The inner fire of feminine energy is extremely important in order to avoid cold and ice in the male heart. The inner fire warms up the male heart. When they are warm, indifference, cruelty and heartlessness cannot grow in them.

Indifference, cruelty, and heartlessness create feeling of Superiority.

Superiority creates a feeling of HE is the only one in the world, and in a very deep way, it gives the feeling that HE is the most powerful. This creates SEPARATION.

By being separated, you are separated not only from others, but also from yourself, from your nature and from God. To be able to survive this feeling of separation at all, you need, a sense of power and superiority over other human beings and all beings who live on Mother Earth. This becomes part of himself, an indivisible, inseparable and indivisible part.

As fear took away all knowledge and gradually created feeling of Separation closely linked with superiority and power, fear managed to separate you from your source.

Thus you do not perceive your interconnection between yourself, Mother Earth, God and the Universe.

And that's what fear wanted to achieve.

Because in this way and in this position, it is easy to control and manipulate you.

And fear achieved that you cannot see, perceive and feel any connection, or any interconnection.

Thus fear controls you very easily, and YOU accept what fear presents to you as the reality of the life you live.

Now you know how it is connected and intertwined, and how fear has changed human beings, how fear has disconnected them from their essence, from their Mother Earth, with which they were connected as the child is connected with their mother and from ME.

Question: Why many men who are supposed to protect their wives and children cannot do it?

Answer: When a man is not taught to love, he cannot love. When he is taught that such behavior is okay, he passes it on to his sons.

This is a tradition of thousands of years and is anchored as a pattern in men's behavior.

It also depends on the mothers whether they have managed to awaken the Love in their sons.

Because if their father was a rapist or roughneck, and mistreated his woman, then the woman didn't respect herself either. She didn't even know what Love was, so she couldn't teach her sons what love is. It went on and on and it is still happening today.

These are the feelings of unworthiness and unhappiness. When a woman feels like she does not deserve Love, she could not receive it, did not experience it thus she cannot pass it on her son because she does not have this experience.

When she does not know what it is to love then her son does not have a teacher, he takes over the behavior of his parents and treats his wife and children accordingly. Here, the men cannot be directly blamed for not caring and protecting their wives and children, because they did know how to do it differently and for them this is the norm.

The general misconception of man and woman roles in society results in many deformations. This misled vision of men and women roles in your society leads to its deformation. This goes on for so long, sometimes it goes up and sometimes down, but it is still in an enormous imbalance. There is no EQUALITY between man and woman in your society.

And it is very good that nowadays more and more women realise this and work with it. Because it is indeed still about the women that need to liberate her inner woman. The outer circle represented by men carries attributes such as pugnacity, power, strength, bravery and protection. These qualities are carried by men, are highlighted in your society, but amongst them, those feminine qualities do not occur.

Men find it very difficult to accept the so-called weaker sex. They know that women are actually stronger. That is why are women suppressed by men in their fear that their women would overpass their qualities. They need to silent women's power.

However, every human being actually consists of women form as well as of men form. In different lives, they can experience either position of man or woman.

And when in one of those lives the man is very oppressing a woman, then when that being is born as a woman, he actually doesn't know how to be a woman, because he has all this suppressed and can't release it. But that's why it is happening to him.

And relationships are actually between men and women in life so they can learn from each other. Thus when in the next life you exchange the roles, you can move to a higher level. However, sometimes it can also go backwards, because the other wants to pay it back thus they hurt and close their inner soul.

It needs to be seen in timeline, in number of past lives, where it all happened. However now you have the term conscious life. The one who can and who tries to go through that understanding and knowledge, he can end eventually that long cycle of returning reciprocal injuries and failures, i.e. own failures and injuries. Thus self-imprisonment can be liberated.

Sometimes it happens right away, and sometimes it takes more lives.

For example, in one life you will be able to understand and in next life you will do it.
