

MESSAGE OF JUSTICE Part. 1

At the seminar about Archangel Zachariel, during our discussion the book "Fifty Shades of Gray" was mentioned. The general rejection of this book surprised me, I could not say that I felt it differently, that I actually liked it. I did not stand up to defend this book.

Suddenly we heard a sudden rupture in the room. The lecturer told us that the "White Lady" came to walk the arcades of the castle and to pray for the man she loved in the chapel. It was the Countess who lived in the castle and her husband whom she loved fell in the fight against the Turks. She was once again married to her late husband's brother, whom she did not love and thus she was very unhappy.

I noticed that a beautiful woman in white was standing in the entrance room where the discussion was taking place.

Our discussion went on and when it was over I felt I should stay for another group discussion. During this second discussion, I noticed the "White Lady" standing by the fireplace and listening to what we were talking about. I felt in my heart that she was sad.

As the time for discussion with the other group was approaching to the end, I began to feel that something was wrong. I couldn't breathe. I couldn't breathe in, neither could I breathe out, and I could feel the heaviness in my heart. I noticed how she said to me, "You write."

You are losing Love from your lives.

And in Love is the Truth hidden.

And in the Truth is hidden Love.

If you lose the Love, then you will not see the Truth.

If you do not see the Truth, you cannot stand up for Justice, and so Justice will be lost in society.

If Justice is lost and you don't even see where the Truth is, then you lose Faith in Love and Trust in yourself.

If you lose Faith and Trust, then Hope dies in you and you lose Love from all society and you.

I felt she was telling me that she didn't understand what we were talking about and was looking at us in silent astonishment, and was waiting all the time to start talking about Love, because Love would show us the Truth so we could find Justice in ourselves, and in all society.

She has told me that she is extremely sad and has been observing for ages how Love is lost in us, and how there is less and less love in society and in human beings.

We allow unlove, i.e. evil, to be rooted in us and anchored in all human society.

As I woke up in the morning, I felt that she wanted to continue with her message, so I got up and started writing her message for me, but not just for me.

Throughout the course of fate, all Archangels teach you to perceive Love and its qualities.

All Archangels bring gifts to your lives, and you will get them if you give up your pride and accept responsibility for all that is happening in your lives.

Archangel Gabriel materializes Love.

Because, what is life and life force? That's Love in Matter.

Archangel Rafael helps you grow, and so Love grows. Growth is the direct action of Love in life.

Archangel Anael gives you Compassion.

Archangel Samael gives you Inner Strength and helps you in your inner transformation.

Archangel Michael will give you the Trust in Yourself, i.e. self-awareness –

"I AM".

Archangel Zachariel will help you see Love in Truth and Truth in Love.

When this happens, then you see the Justice that Archangel Zachariel brings to you, because when you perceive the Truth in Love, it is no longer subjective, but becomes objective.

The book "50 Shades of Gray" and its sequels carry a deep message.

The fuss around was there to make it interesting to people so they read it.

The message of those books was about Love.

And that is about love between man and woman and about mother's love.

These are two basic and sacred principles on Mother Earth, because sacred love between man and woman is the principle through which life on Mother Earth is born and renewed. But this principle is violated, and so a new life is not born in Love, Unity and Harmony, because man and woman are Not Equal in your society.

The second sacred principle is Mother's Love, that can heal in human being what the unlove created by its birth.

The book was, in principle, the same story of deep love between man and woman as many other stories about Love, because the young woman has healed him with her deep love. The book has shown how immensely destructive it is for a human being if it does not receive Love at birth and if the child does not receive mother's love.

Women intuitively reached for the book, because they need to heal as first and heal all the pain stored in their hearts so that they can love their men unconditionally and heal them with their Love.

The book attracted you somehow, you didn't even have to know why, because it was intuitive. Let me tell you that what appealed to you was the depth of compassion in the heart of the young woman, because it was the compassionate love that helped her to FORGIVE.

If she had no compassion in her heart, she would not be able to forgive him or herself, so she would not be able to heal his heart so he could begin to believe in Love again and in himself.

The message of these books is that deep Love, unconditional Love, Compassion and Forgiveness can heal you. Being born in Unlove and lacking maternal love, it has had very destructive effect on him as a human being.

All diseases are caused by a lack of Love, either in our physical body or in our soul.

You need to find Love again, and you need to begin to understand Love in a broader context to start seeing the Truth in the light of Love, only then you will find Justice.

Because the principle of sacred love between man and woman is deeply disturbed, the book has been written to appeal to the man of today, but on an unconscious level the message it brings, remains.

This message was saved: if children do not receive their mother's love and are not born in Love, it is extremely destructive to their development, and these human beings cannot heal themselves and thus they hurt other human beings because they cannot give Love to themselves.
