

LOVE, SOUL, FEAR - Part 1

Question: I already know that nothing happens by chance. When I went by car, a dog ran under my car. I didn't go fast, but I still went through its leg and its skin was torn. I was completely shook up and my daughter was weeping. Please tell me why it happened, what lesson should I learn?

Answer: This situation has shown you how quickly and easily you can feel guilty. Fear very quickly, not only through your own pain but through the pain of those you love and love you creates guilt in you. It has shown you how fear uses those you love limitlessly and through their pain, it can create feelings of guilt. If you have enough compassion for yourself in your heart to stop creating pain in yourself and feelings of guilt towards yourself, the fear will lose its power to manipulate us. This situation has shown you how the fear wants to manipulate you by creating the pain in your heart that consequently creates a feeling of guilt. To reach this, it is exploiting and abusing those you love infinitely and limitlessly. Because it is enough just to create pain in those you love so you create a feeling of guilt in yourself.

And fear has succeeded to do this. You know how deep was the guilt you have felt and created. Because your daughter's pain was so great that she couldn't talk to you, you felt great guilt in your heart that you ran over the dog.

It was a situation that you could not influence, you could not prevent it, because the dog itself ran under the car. Yet you have created a guilt in your heart to herself.

This situation was important so that you could understand the following knowledge I want to pass on to you.

In order for fear to create pain in your hearts, it will create pain in the hearts of those beings you love the most in your life. Through their pain, it creates feelings of guilt in your hearts. Thus fear takes control over you again. Fear does not want to give up its power over you, always seeks new ways to keep you in his power.

You have learned to Forgive yourself, you have stopped creating pain in your heart and you have stopped creating feelings of guilt towards yourself. However, you can't stop creating guilt if you perceive, see and feel the pain of your loved ones that are part of your life. And that's exactly what happened. Then, when you have calmed down, I helped you to understand that the guilt was created and brought in by fear, consequently, you could gradually forgive yourself, and the guilt you created was dissolved. This happened in a relatively short time. This is because you have accepted the knowledge that I have given you. If this knowledge did not become a part of you, you would not be able to forgive yourself and let go of the feeling of guilt created by the pain of your beloved child.

These are the feelings of guilt that are transmitted and that arise from the pain of those you love unconditionally. You cannot let go off of these feelings of guilt if there is no compassion in your heart, in relation to yourself. If your hearts are not filled with compassion towards yourself, then you cannot forgive such feelings of guilt created by the pain of those you love unconditionally. These are the feelings of guilt through which fear takes control over your life, manipulates and rules over you.

Since you, as human beings, have lost the knowledge that everything is related to everything and everything is very deeply intertwined and connected, you have not realized the very deep interdependence at the level of your souls with those human beings that you love limitlessly and unconditionally in your lives. Fear has abused and took advantages of your unawareness in order to create the deepest unforgiveness and guilt which you then carry all your life in your heart, and through which fear manipulates you easily.

Notice and truly realize how fear has used always the same way to create guilt. Because fear took advantage of your lost knowledge that everything was related to everything and that you are deeply and strongly intertwined, bounded and connected with those you love unconditionally. I believe you understand what I want to explain to you. I can't even find the right words to describe the unfairness of fear by which fear abuses this interconnection of souls in order to create guilt in your hearts and thus manipulate you.

I believe that you feel and perceive my indignation when I pass this message to you.

I perceived and felt the energy of indignation such as I would feel if I was in a similar situation.

For it is an extremely profound unfairness of fear to abuse the fact that it has taken away the knowledge from human beings. At the same time, fear knew that at the level of souls, this deep interdependence and interconnection that everything was related to everything would be preserved. By abusing this, fear has at the same time managed to easily create these feelings of guilt in you, while hurting you unimaginably deeply.

Question: If possible and permitted, I would like to ask about the importance of pyramids for Mother Earth and for mankind?

Answer: They were built to allow LIGHT and WISDOM to come to Earth. They ensured that the LIGHT came to Mother Earth, that the LIGHT continued to shine through the darkness, hopelessness and chaos that had arisen in human society. Their purpose still remains the same.

Through them, LIGHT and WISDOM come to Mother Earth. Many similar pyramids were built throughout Mother Earth. They are mostly hidden for the human eye. They can only be seen by inner sight, by your heart. They are hidden to human sight so that some human beings cannot take advantage of these buildings for their own purposes.

Such buildings are spread throughout Mother Earth. All ensure that LIGHT, LIGHT OF GOD'S GRACE and UNCONDITIONAL LOVE come to Mother Earth. It is God's Grace and Unconditional Love that is necessary for the seed of Compassionate Love to sprout in your hearts so that it can grow. Through them comes God's Grace to you, which is extremely important for preserving life on Mother Earth, as the water is.

Just as WATER is a necessary condition for the life of your physical bodies on Mother Earth, so is GOD'S GRACE a necessary condition for the life of your souls on Mother Earth.

The souls need to feel the energy of God's grace on this planet - Mother Earth to incarnate here. God's grace is part of them. God's grace is part of the Love from which souls were born. When they come here, into an environment of fear, they need to feel the God's grace, and therefore these buildings receive the energy of God's grace, which I unconditionally pass on to you.

I perceived this wonderful energy of God's grace and unconditional God's Love, which, like a wonderful warmth, has spilt all over my body and has entered every single cell.

If the energy of God's Grace would not come here to Mother Earth, your souls would not incarnate on Mother Earth. Unlike you, your souls are aware of their interconnection and interdependence. This knowledge is part of them. Since YOU, as human beings, do not understand this interconnection and interdependence in physical bodies, you do not see and perceive that everything is related to everything and everything is interconnected and intertwined. Your souls know all this and need to feel and perceive this energy.

It is the energy of God's Grace.

Question: Synchronicity is not a coincidence, and our souls need it for incarnation. Why?

Answer: Nothing in the Universe is a coincidence. Synchronicity is a gift I gave you just to make you better aware, to notice and to understand the interdependence and effect of all cosmic laws.

Synchronicity is the simultaneous interaction of all laws of Universe.

Their interconnection and interaction in the perception of human beings sounds like coincidence. But that's just the synchronicity. The interconnection of everything with everything is synchronicity. When you understand that everything is interconnected and intertwined you will understand that nothing, absolutely nothing is random, neither the Life of Human Beings on Mother Earth nor the Life of the Universe and that everywhere and in everything there is synchronicity.

Question: Energy channels, on Mother Earth, are energy channels for soul travel?

Answer: This question is very difficult for your way of perception and knowledge. I will try to explain it to you in terms of the knowledge you have so far. The fundamental energy and the most powerful energy of the Universe is the energy of Love. It is the energy from which the entire Universe was created. It is the energy from which all beings of the soul. Since the soul is born from the energy of Love to be able to perceive itself, it needs to perceive the energy of Love, and in order for souls to incarnate on Mother Earth in physical bodies, it is necessary that the energy of Love, from which souls were born, constantly, continuously, flows to Mother Earth.

It is not possible that there would be just one channel through which this energy would flow to Mother Earth, and therefore there are many limitless energy channels created around Mother Earth, which transmit this energy on to Mother Earth. If you come to Mother Earth as subtle beings who do not perceive and who are not influenced by time and space, this energy is always and continuously part of you. However, if you incarnate in physical bodies as human beings, the frequency of matter you become, loses this energy. In order for souls to come here, this energy needs to flow here constantly.

I explained to you earlier that the pyramids were built on Mother Earth so that the energy of God's Grace would flow to Mother Earth through them. This system of pyramids is very closely interconnected, and through them, this energy of Love and God's Grace can then be spread back to Mother Earth. Pyramids are built to allow the flow of God's grace on Mother Earth. These channels create a very densely intertwined grid around Mother Earth so that Mother Earth is always protected by this energy of Love. Through these channels, because they are filled with the energy of Love, which is identical to the energy of your souls, souls can come freely to Mother Earth, where they can incarnate in physical bodies. It is a safe way for them because it has the same energy value as souls. This journey is very kind, free, and safe for them.

I have created these ways for your souls, because every soul is my child. Just as YOU protect your children and create paths for them and keep away the scraps so that they do not hurt them, I have also created these paths for my children, represented in form of your souls, which you perceive as energy channels.

Question: When are we happy? Someone said: When we can make decisions to change what doesn't suit us. When we do this, we live in accordance with our consciousness.

I didn't feel that way, and my answer was that we were happy when we live in harmony with our soul. So please, how is it when we are happy when we live in accordance with our consciousness or in soul?

Answer: You have answered this question yourself.

Only when you live in harmony with your soul, then you are in Harmony with Life. Then you are happy because you are on the wave of your own inner flow and changes.

That is why I have given you the gift of „FREE DECISION,, so that you, as human beings, can always choose to be in harmony with your soul.

You are happy when you truly are in harmony with the soul, for the SOUL IS A REFLECTION OF THE CREATOR'S LOVE.

If it is in accordance with your Consciousness - physical consciousness, with what you are able to realize and feel, then it is also your human harmony, because YOU are guided as human beings by physical feelings and you feel through the Consciousness. When you,,have a feeling,, or when a feeling comes through your soul into your Consciousness, and you decide accordingly, then this creates that harmony and at the same time a feeling of happiness.
