

CRUELTY - Part 1.

A whip with a wooden handle came to me. The part of the whip with which we can crack is extremely long.

Question: What should you do with the whip?

Answer: I should crack with it.

Question: And do you want to do it?

Answer: Yes, I already did and while doing it I have perceived two pictures.

In the first picture, I found myself on a green meadow that is empty and I stand in the middle of it and I can crack with whip completely freely and loosely.

In the second picture, I found myself in brick-walled space and with each hit with the whip, I break the walls and throw them away and when I break down everything, I stand alone on a green field.

It showed me that different situations can happen at the same place.

Also by removing what tie us up, desecrates us, we can create something beautiful, free and loose. It is related to the possibility that the something beautiful and free that was created by Mother Earth can be changed by our human activity and we can also desecrate it by what we build or energetically create there and we can again purify it with our energy and return there the original beauty, looseness, freedom, that is, to return those original energies there.

Along with that human activity, you can also create something beautiful, pure, free in ourselves, not only on those places on Mother Earth.

And just as you can change these places, if we clog them with negative energies, negative vibrations, depending on what we create there, on the position of material things, and on the energy of our thoughts, words, vibrations, we can also do it in ourselves because each of us has a tool in us to do the one or the other thing.

We have the tools to create something beautiful, pure, free but also, we have the tool to create the hard, negative, extremely painful energies that change the vibration not only of that place but also of us.

The WHIP reflects this.

If you crack the whip in such a way that you hit someone, you will cause him pain, a deep wound, however, you can use the whip incorrectly and hit yourself too.

If you use the whip correctly, you can throw away energetically what is negative.

It's up to you how you use that tool in yourself.

You can use the whip in such a way that you hit with the whip and only hear the whip cracking in the air but you didn't hurt anybody, you didn't hit anybody but that whip created a very strong energy because you heard the sound although you did not see it but the sound, that is, the energy response that translated into sound, that was heard.

When using this your inner tool you have inside of you, though with physical sight you cannot see that you have done something but the consequences of using this tool are visible in physical life, just like when you hear the whip cracking.

If you use this tool correctly, you can make a very big change inside of you which is not visible with physical sight but is as strong and as powerful as the power of the whip cracking.

The tool you have inside of you can create a lot of pain in you, if you use it incorrectly that is, to hit someone else. It is just like with a whip when you use it.

This inner tool will also cause pain as if you would physically hit with the whip another human being. Those wounds can be as deep, painful and bloody as the wounds caused by the whip on a person's physical body.

Just as the whip-cracking can cause a death of the physical body after repeated whipping, so does the inner tool, it can hurt so much that you could kill another person or yourself if you use it against you. The inner tool can be used both ways.

Question: Now, can you tell me what the inner tool is?

My answer: I think it is human language, our language, the words we pronounce.

Answer from above: Word, yes and also. The word has its energy expression but also other tools are in you. One of these tools can be named as a WORD because it is not just a cluster of letters but behind it, is immense energy power. Every word has its own energy expression and it is important that you are able to perceive the energy that you create with this energy tool - a word.

How you use this tool i.e. WORD, depends on your decision because with words you can give Joy, Freedom, Happiness but you can also kill and create pain and suffering.

But not this tool I meant when I asked you whether you know what this inner tool is?

Question: Please tell me, what is the inner tool?

Answer: It is your ABILITY TO FORGIVE.

And it is very easy if you have LOVE in your HEART.

If a human being FORGIVES, he creates the energy of LOVE and ACCEPTANCE, he is free and liberated because he feels LOVE inside himself and perceives LOVE also around himself because he also sends the love outwardly.

If the human being DOES NOT FORGIVE, the cracking with the whip that he creates is HATE.

HATE unimaginably strongly ties up the human being who created it but also the other human being that was hit by the whip of HATE and of UNFORGIVENESS. That HATE is causing tremendous pain because it is the essence of CRUELTY.

HATE CREATES CRUELTY.

CRUELTY is energy that can multiply itself exponentially, it burns everything, it burns all bridges and the only thing that is left is the absolutely black burned-out earth.

I will tell it to you once again.

CRUELTY is an energy that can multiply itself.

And once it is created in a human being, in that particular life, that human being can no longer control or stop it because cruelty swallows up and burns the whole interior of a human being and also burns this tool that every human being gets as a gift and that is the ABILITY TO FORGIVE.

If CRUELTY swallows up the entire interior of a human being and burns this tool, the human being will never change in that particular life again. She/He must be born again so that she/he can work with the cruelty that she/he let grow in herself/himself so it can shrink again.

This is because these human beings, who have allowed that their inner self is swallowed by CRUELTY, have absolutely lost the HUMILITY.

It is the opposite side and they stand energetically at the other end of the imaginary pendulum i.e. the HUMILITY is at one end and the CRUELTY at the other end.

Therefore, those human beings who are ruled by cruelty have no HUMILITY in themselves, and therefore are unable to change the energy in themselves in that particular human life.

There is always a BREAKING POINT that once it is crossed over, you cannot go back.

With this tool, that you have inside you, you can create, on one hand, LOVE, FREEDOM, LIBERTY, JOY and HAPPINESS and on the other hand, pain, hate, misunderstanding, misapprehension and cruelty.

Just as wounds of whips leave scars on the physical body these whips leave scars inside you as well.

Then very much LOVE is needed to heal these scars. The deeper, the larger and the bigger the scars are, the longer it takes you to heal them in course of your existence.

The greater the HATE and CRUELTY, the deeper and the longer the wounds and scars are.

These wounds are mostly caused by your misunderstandings, misapprehensions, and non-acceptance.

And misunderstanding and misapprehension arise when you do not communicate with each other, talk and when you create your ideas and expectations of what the other human beings should do and how they should act.

Therefore it is very important to communicate with each other and not to create misunderstandings with each other and for this purpose, you have received the gift of word and speech that you, however, often do not use.

And with this gift of word and mutual communication, you can prevent misunderstandings and misapprehensions because this is the energy from which hatred and non-acceptance are born.

In material terms, the hate stands for a seed that you plant in the ground from which cruelty itself can actually grow.

How high you let cruelty grow, how much you let it grow depends on the energy of the hate with which you nourish this seed.

That's why it is so hard to stop and change the Cruelty because it is already materialised and tangible in the physical form of your state of being. You cannot see or feel hatred but you can see, perceive and feel the consequences of cruelty.

It's like the sound you hear after whip cracking.

It is not something that is expressed only on the energy level but it already exists in material level too. All that you can transfer as human beings into the matter which has a physical form is permanent and the wounds that were caused by cruelty are the wounds that remain energetically the longest to be part of you and of your incarnations that you will be born into.

You need to live a lot of lives in which you as a human being are filled with the energy of love to energetically create in yourself the counterpart to the energy of cruelty so that the imaginary pendulum is shifted to the other side and HUMILITY becomes part of you because only then you are able to FORGIVE the wounds that were caused by the energy of cruelty so that they can be dissolved and healed in the LOVE OF FORGIVENESS.

As a human being, you need to be filled with such great LOVE and HUMILITY that could balance the power of cruelty with which were your wounds and scars created and that is why it takes such a long time.

Only if this quality of LOVE, that is the HUMILITY, becomes part of you, you will be able to heal and cure the cruelty. I have already explained to you that HUMILITY comes as a gift of the higher principles of the Cosmic Laws because HUMILITY is not automatically part of you.
