

CRUELTY - Part 3.

Now, I will go back to continue the story that I told you a long time ago in the message:

Forgiving yourself. 1.part : <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=861> , 2.part , <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=863> and 3.part : <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=865>.

The little girl who witnessed the murder of her mother and father grew up over time, grew into a woman, married and also became a mother. But this woman, as a little girl, has created unforgiveness toward herself because as a small child, she did not have the strength nor the courage to stand up against this man to stop him from killing her mother and that created in her anger and hatred towards this man but especially it created the belief that when she grows up and is big, she will have the strength to kill the man. And at this moment she has created the belief that she has got the right to decide about the life and the death of another human being.

This belief that she had the right to make decisions about the life and death of another human being created head of pride of superiority in her because at that time, though unconsciously, she took over the head of pride of superiority that belonged to the man who murdered her parents because he, himself acted out of this head of pride of superiority.

As she grew older, she created enormous hatred towards the man as such and could not accept or understand at all that he was a human being who had love in him that, he also could be friendly and that he can even help other people and at the same time she created same hatred towards his entire family or the community that the man came from.

Her hatred towards this man but also towards the community he came from, was boundless.

The enormous hatred that the little girl had created for this human being and which she had fostered throughout all her life since the death of her parents, multiplied and eventually turned against herself because as an adult woman she could no longer use her gift of communication so she could not get to know him better nor the people from his community. She did not accept them, rejected them and made enemies from them and the hatred, with which she often thought of them, recreated energetically more hatred for them and her hatred also created, in this man, a belief that he can humiliate her once again with other men from the community.

And this created the energy of the fight they fought against each other and the fight only nourished the cruelty and it grew and increased. In the fight that hatred created, many of those whom the woman loved immensely, died.

And since she was a woman, she turned the hatred towards all men as such, because someone had to be responsible and someone had to be guilty of what happened in the fight.

But as a woman, she had no physical power or strength so that she could destroy and kill those physical men, over time she erased the inner man that was the stronger one inside her and transferred all the blame and responsibility for the death of those she loved to the inner man thus she created an imbalance in herself.

She did not accept that her inner man had the same responsibility for making the decision - to hate the other physical men, as her inner wife had because it was their joint decision.

But the cruelty that was subsequently created in that life by their mutual fight has multiplied in an unimaginably powerful way, it grew and has returned to her, has struck her right through the men and so she needed to erase men as such from earth's surface.

However, physically in that material world, it wasn't in her power so she did it within her.

And she did so because the cruelty that struck her, took all her ability to FORGIVE.

By wiping out her inner man and by not forgiving her inner man, she actually did not forgive herself but in that life, she could not realize it because she could not perceive the consequences of her decision energetically and therefore she did not accept responsibility for it.

Cruelty as such takes away from you, human beings, your GIFT – THE ABILITY TO FORGIVE. Cruelty will cause that you not only close the door in your heart in front of LOVE but cruelty turns your heart into a stone and you harden and you will not let in LOVE into your heart and so you don't create the wonderful human warmth inside you and you become yourself cold beings. You are like that stone and you do not see that you receive the energy of cruelty that has struck you and that you became as cruel beings as those who created this energy of cruelty. And with this cruelty you punish yourself.

The UNFORGIVENESS that you ultimately create is unforgiveness towards yourself and it is as great and as deep as to what extent you have accepted the energy of cruelty inside you. Ultimately, you turn it like a mirror out to those human beings that have caused you the pain and that unforgiveness through that mirror is transformed into them and that is why you cannot see that you need to FORGIVE YOURSELF as first.

And this is a closed circle in which you have been moving for ages because FEAR as such, abused a LAW OF MIRRORING in this circle of FORGIVENESS and precisely because your heart has closed and hardened and you do not let in the energy of LOVE, you cannot see that you need TO FORGIVE YOURSELF first. You see only the reflection of that mirror and you only perceive the unforgiveness towards the other human beings.

And within this circle that fear created, you will see this only when HUMILITY becomes part of you again because only with HUMILITY can you take RESPONSIBILITY again for your decisions and deeds and you can do it only when you accept RESPONSIBILITY as your indivisible, inseparable and integral part of you. And this is the higher principle of the Cosmic Laws.

The left shoulder blade became very painful.

Question: What does this pain in your shoulder blade show you, what is it?

Answer: I perceive this spot of pain as a place of immense betrayal but it is MISUNDERSTANDING because no other human being has betrayed us but WE have betrayed OURSELVES because we have derailed from LOVE which we are, which is our essence and we have allowed ourselves that HATE would rule over our hearts.

It is always your decision and it is not the decision of any other human being but YOU.

And this is the MISUNDERSTANDING and NON-ACCEPTANCE.

And precisely because you decide for HATE instead of LOVE inside you, you refuse to communicate with the other human beings and turn them into enemies for good and then in the PRIDE that dominates us, you want to humiliate each other.

And your inner woman has the same level of responsibility for this decision as your inner man. It is your decision and therefore you should not punish only one of them however you have done so often in your past lives.

By erasing her inner man, he ceased to exist for her, thus creating inequality and imbalance in herself and as she did not accept the inner man within her, she was unable to accept men even outwardly.

I explained the relationship between your inner woman and your inner man in a message called

Inner temple: 1.part: <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=416>, 2.part: <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=420>, 3.part: <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=423>, 4.part: <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=425>, 5.part <https://posolstvalasky.sk/?p=430>

If in a lifetime, a woman creates such an enormous pain in her that she has erased her inner man because of the cruelty experienced by men, she cannot do anything about it in that particular life. She must be born again in order to change it.

However, she has this pain deep within her and therefore does not accept men for many years in the following lives but she does so unconsciously.

It is very important for this woman to at least, realize it. Maybe she still can't heal the wound but at least she can realize it.

My left shoulder blade ached immensely, as if it had been stabbed by knives in every place.

Question: What does the pain mean?

Answer : It is the energy of NON-ACCEPTANCE.

If a woman as such, in some life experiences the enormous cruelty caused by men then in her subsequent incarnations, she still denies men not only from inside but also from the outside. She can't accept men in her life and she still sends out energetically that hostile attitude towards them and even though it is subconscious, it is extremely strong. Often times she doesn't realize it at all because she doesn't see it but she subconsciously does it. She fights with men in her life, be it her father, brother, lover or husband. However, she cannot see that she leads this fight and although she is told so, she does not accept the fact that she is fighting with her loved ones, on the contrary, their words make her even angrier and more irritated. This is because the truth always hurts you the most because it hits you the most. As the closed ones observe what she does not see, so she creates even greater resistance towards them but she does it subconsciously.

The POWERLESSNESS of the woman in her previous life caused by not being able to return those strokes to the other human being - that is, to that man, has caused that the HATE that she had energetically created toward the other human being, has turned against her. And that's why is the unforgiving yourself so immense and powerful.

That is why it applies that if you cannot FORGIVE YOURSELVES, you can not forgive others.

Only when you FORGIVE YOURSELF, can you give FORGIVENESS to the other human beings because only in own FORGIVENESS, you can transform the created energy of HATE into LOVE.

But if you cannot forgive yourself, the created energy of HATE still remains and therefore it is only an illusion that you think you have forgiven the other human being.

And this is because the POWERLESSNESS turns that energy of HATE that was created towards the other human being against you.

If you also think that you have forgiven the other human being but have not forgiven yourself, in that next life, you will deal with exactly the same vibrations energetically because only when you FORGIVE YOURSELF you can transform the created energy of HATE into LOVE.

And that's the Cosmic law.

If you don't love yourself, you don't love the others.

If you can love, accept yourself without conditions, you can do it to other human beings.

And it doesn't work the other way around! Realise it!

That is why I have told you many times that, first of all, you need to start from yourself and you need to learn to FORGIVE yourself first.
